

LEON MARTINEZ SENTENCED TO SERVE THIRTY DAYS

Leon Martinez was sentenced by Judge Griffin on Monday last to serve 30 days in the county jail on a charge of vagrancy.

He and a man named Wilder are charged with robbing freight cars that are sometimes sidetracked on the Dumbarton track. A few days ago Wilder, who is in custody in San Francisco, made a complete confession. He implicated Martinez in the crime. Wilder said that both had robbed the box cars several times. For months the Southern Pacific company's officials have been missing articles taken from their cars and have had their best detectives on the job. A letter found upon Martinez disclosed the theft. Both Wilder and Martinez are ex-convicts. They made a specialty of stealing cigarettes and selling them to San Francisco dealers. The cars entered by them were from the east. Eastern trains sometimes remain for hours and days sidetracked on the Dumbarton track and during these stops Wilder and Martinez did the looting. They will be tried here although they could have been tried in the Federal Court owing to the fact that the articles taken were from interstate cars. District Attorney Swart has decided to try the case here. Wilder will be brought from San Francisco on Monday.

Pescadero Community Center

According to Mr. Jerome Pendleton, the state executive, Pescadero has broken all time record for Community Center organization.

On September 8, the Parent Teachers' Club were told by the County Community organization what a center is, how conducted, and its possibilities for Pescadero. After a short discussion as to ways and means they endorsed the plan presented, and voted to call a mass meeting for the following Sunday night. A housing committee was appointed to report at the meeting on possible plans for a Center.

On September 12, a good representative number of men and women met, unanimously endorsed the Parent Teachers' action, and voted to open up a Center. An executive board was appointed, consisting of one member from each local organization, also men from the farmer, business, school and professional groups in the community. Mr. Carl Coburn was elected chairman of the board, and September 15 set for the first board meeting.

With such action the Center was practically launched. On September 14 the State Executive wrote the national organization that Pescadero Community Center existed, be granted affiliation, and enrolled for all the privileges thereof.

On the night of September 22 the Pescadero Center will begin activities when the school boys' club holds a meeting in the building prepared for temporary use.

"Why Pescadero first?" Is the question put to Miss Fleider as she passes through the count. The answer is, "Pescadero had a principal who cared very much about the leisure time of his boys, and a parent-teacher's club that was doing things."

When there are three or four Centers in the county, the state will furnish directors who will request spend six weeks here, visiting Centers and training leaders. Already there are available leaders in music, dramatics and recreational work.

Miss Caroline L. Fielder, the County Community organizer, can be reached at Pescadero for the next month.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Bank of Italy and stockholders auxiliary corporation, on the 14th instant it was determined to issue the remaining ten thousand combined shares of the capital stock of the Bank of Italy and Stockholders Auxiliary Corporation on July 2, 1921, and to begin receiving subscriptions therefor at once.

The sale of these last 10,000 shares has been fixed at two hundred dollars per combined share. In order to have an idea of the basis upon which the bank has fixed the sale price of these remaining combined shares to be issued as of July 2, 1921, permit me to submit the following calculation:

Present book value of the combined capital, surplus and undivided profit of both corporations (90,000 shares issued) approximately $15,000,000.

Net earnings for July 1, 1921, in excess of regular dividends of both corporations after reasonable deductions for depreciation, and possible losses, etc., estimated at $1,500,000. Value of banking premises, furniture, fixtures, safe, deposit vaults, in excess of amount carried on books, appraised by Mr. Wm. A. Newsom, one of the bank's appraisers, at $2,000,000, but for purposes of this set down at $1,500,000.

Proceeds of sale of these remaining 10,000 combined shares at $200 per share, $2,000,000.

Total estimated capital, surplus and undivided profits of both corporations when all of the 100,000 shares are issued, July 2, 1921, $20,000,000.

CITY TRUSTEES MET MONDAY

Monday evening proved to be the liveliest meeting of the city trustees held for some time. The matter of building the spur track was considered and the city board had, at a previous meeting, requested the Chamber of Commerce to express their opinion relative to starting work immediately on the spur track.

A delegation from the Chamber was present and strongly advocated that the track be completed at the earliest possible date. D. R. Stafford who was unable to be at the meeting expressed his opinion in writing and stated that he could see no reason for the delay.

A resolution presented by the Chamber of Commerce was read and ordered filed and a note made of it on the minutes.

City Attorney Mansfield, who had been instructed to wait upon the S. H. Frank company regarding the elimination of a certain clause in the deed, which clause is to the effect that the own of Redwood City must maintain the property as a municipal wharf, reported that he called upon the officials of the company and they refused to make any change in the wording of the instrument.

At a previous meeting of the board a proposition was presented by the Lawrence Warehouse company to lease the property, this would give the warehouse company the exclusive use of the wharf. But when the matter of leasing the property to anyone was brought up the city attorney called attention to the clause mentioned above. This clause seems to be the pivot round which the two elements rotate.

Mr. Steinberger addressed the board and in a very able speech defended the clause. He stated that with the clause in the instrument it would show the government that the Town of Redwood City had a municipal wharf which could be used for no other purpose which would make it easier to secure government aid. He also stressed on the fact that the tanning company was not the only one to be benefited by the spur track, and said that his company did not care to sell any of their property, if the spur track was built it would mean the loss of $50,000 in addition to the property already given to the city for a municipal wharf.

F. K. Towne, cashier of the First National Bank, M. J. Knox, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Fred H. Drake, who was instrumental in locating the Pratt-Low cannery here, and others, strongly urged the board to take action without changing the wording of the deed.

In order to bring the matter to a close the delegation asked the board if they would sell the bonds and start work on the spur track if the objectionable clause was eliminated. A straw vote was taken and every member signified his willingness. This matter being disposed of the regular order of business was resumed.

The board at this time officially accepted the fire house and allowed Mr. Warden the balance due him on the contract, $7892.75.

The American Legion was granted a permit to hold a boxing bout on September 28.

The Hall Association of the F. of O. was granted a permit, through its chairman, H. Lamb, to hold a 3 o'clock dance on October 2.

A claim was presented by Sylvester Douglas, driver of the fire truck on the day shift, for services of a relief man at the fire house. There being no authorization for a relief man at the fire house, the board hesitated about allowing the claim. After some discussion Trustee Ryan signed the claim and it was ordered paid.

Trustee Kreiss said that he thought the day and night driver could arrange in some way to relieve each other. A straw vote was taken and all the Town could afford to pay in wages at the fire house. However the board decided not to employ an extra man at the fire house.

William Byrnes returned on Monday from Willows where he has a contract to harvest 3000 acres of rice. Last week he shipped 50 head of horses to that place and farming utensils. Mr. Byrnes while there saw many ducks. He says that when the birds fly up from the rice fields that the sun is obscured for several seconds. Three airplanes are kept busy chasing the ducks from the fields. He says that they cannot be shot as this is the closed season.

But when asked if he had any duck dinners while there he winked his eye and demurred to the question. Mr. Byrnes will be engaged in harvesting the rice for over a month.

James M. Goewy and Olivet Goewy, his wife, have purchased from Margaret M. Zeeman and husband, at a price said to be in the neighborhood of $25,000, lots 4, 5, 6 and 7 of the East Greenwood tract, on the Woodside road about two miles outside of Redwood City. The property is located almost opposite the Golf Links and is a magnificent country home for the San Francisco broker.

Damages of $1,500 for the alleged killing of two valuable deer hounds were awarded in a complaint filed by John Skrabo and Mado Mangini, ranchers living near Woodside. According to the complaint the dogs were "maliciously and wantonly shot and killed" by George Flager and George J. England, while the two were hunting near Portola last August. Flager is superintendent of the country place of Stanford Sachs at Portola, known as the "Tea Gardens."

A fire of unknown origin completely destroyed a large tank house at Woodside early Monday morning. The flames cast a bright glare over the country for miles around and the people living in the neighborhood were attracted by the spectacular blaze. The tank was on the A. L. Meyerstein property. The flames spread to several low buildings nearby and considerable loss resulted. As there was no available means to fight the flames the large gathering of curious farmers could do nothing but stand by and watch the strange sight. The chaffer employed at the place claims the fire started on the outside of the tank.

SENATOR JOHNSON SPOKE
TUESDAY AT SACRAMENTO

Predicting an overwhelming success for the Republican party, Senator Hiram W. Johnson addressed the Republican State Convention at Sacramento Tuesday. In his speech he predicted that the widespread dissatisfaction with democratic policies and presidential action would result in a complete overthrow of the present administration and that nothing could prevent the election of Warren G. Harding. Johnson reiterated his statement that Harding had scrapped the League of Nations and that the operation would rally the electorate of America to the candidacy of the Republican nominee. Senator Johnson said:

"I congratulate you upon the outlook for Republican success. So widespread is the dissatisfaction with the present administration, so great the hostility to many of the acts of the President, and so acute the justifiable fear of the metamorphosis of our foreign policy, that apparently nothing can prevent overwhelming Republican success in the November election.

"The indictment brought against Mr. Wilson's government is severe, but warranted by the facts. For the first time in our lives the Democratic administration taught us what repression were. This administration not only curtailed the constitutional privilege of citizens at home, but endeavored to drive us into perilous paths abroad. Free speech has been threatened, not in the interest of patriotism but for existing power. A free press has been endangered. A rigid censorship dictated the news, and facts to which all were entitled, were forbidden publication, while government propaganda colored, and, often distorted, the information permitted to come to the people. These assaults insensibly bred intolerance, the ancient foe of freedom. The necessary restrictions of wartime have been inexorably prolonged in peace, and our government has strayed from the fundamental principles upon which, for more than a century and a quarter, the Republic has so securely rested.

"Not only have these things transpired domestically, but while our intellects were numbed, with the anguish of war, and free expression was controlled, the present democratic administration sought to revolutionize the time-honored foreign policy of the nation, and to make us a part of every distant quarrel and controversy and of every military adventure. Under the specious guise of a League of Nations to promote peace and prevent war, we were to be inextricably bound hereafter to every future world war.

"When first, in soft and honeyed phrases, the subject was broached, we had become so accustomed to ready assent to every act of autocratic power, that our people enthusiastically acclaimed the League without knowledge of its detail or understanding of its injurious possibilities. The long and arduous debate in the Senate finally illumined the subject. And what was originally accepted as humanity's greatest boon was finally seen as the most perilous project which had ever been attempted in the Republic. The League of Nations not alone will irrevocably change our foreign policy and involve us in the quarrels and controversies in which we have no concern and from which we have held aloft, but will also seriously affect us in our domestic relations. It becomes, therefore, as both candidates assert and as the President himself has desired, the dominant issue in this campaign. Men like ourselves who have fought the good fight for the last year and a half enthusiastically welcome this issue and in the election in November will repudiate, beyond redemption, the Wilson League which has been presented to us, and reaffirm again the time-honored policies of Washington, Jefferson, Monroe and the whole galaxy of American immortals.

"Upon the League of Nations, the issue is clean cut. There are some gentlemen who seek a shifty construction of words to obscure it. I do not object to these gentlemen and their newspaper protagonists saying their faces so long as they do not save their League. But the language of the two candidates is plain and unambiguous. The one says he will go into the League, and I am proud to say that our candidate says that he will stay out of the League. Every normal man desires to promote peace, and prevent war. Every private citizen and every individual in official position will do their utmost in the endeavor to promote peace and prevent war. It is possible that this may be done in one way or another in the future, without involving us in entanglements of in imperialistic policies or European or Asiatic schemes of aggression or ambition. That we will strive to find a way to prevent war goes without saying. But the present issue is the League of Nations. This has been the issue since the return of Mr. Wilson from Europe. During all the bitter, vindictive months this has been the fight. It finally culminates now in solemn referendum to the people. Mr. Cox says if he is successful, he will go in. Our candidate says he will stay out. Mr. Harding, happily for himself and America, has scrapped the League. On August 28, he said:

"We know now that the League constituted at Versailles is utterly impotent as a preventative of wars. It is obviously impotent that it has not even been tried. It could not survive a single test. The original league mistakenly conceived and unreasonably insisted upon has undoubtedly passed beyond the possibility of restoration."

"It rested upon the power of might not of right."

And in this, Mr. Harding is entirely right.

"On Saturday, last, Senator Harding again stated the issue: 'The Constitution or the covenant, that is the paramount issue. The two are irreconcilable. We cannot be governed from both Geneva and Washington. We cannot follow our present Chief Magistrate without forsaking the Father of our Country.'

"Here is an issue, my friends, which arouses not only our greatest enthusiasm, but our loftiest patriotism, and which can carry us to the highest pitch of endeavor. It is European and Asiatic imperialism and cynical diplomacy on the one hand, and our time-honored policy upon the other. We neither hazard nor forget nor lose our progressivism and our independence upon such an issue, but rather safeguard and protect them in safeguarding and protecting our country. It is nonsense for our opponents to chide us with aloofness and selfish isolation in remaining as we have been. We never have been and never will be isolated from the rest of the world. We will ever play our proud part generously and unselfishly, but we will play it in our own way, in our own time, with independence untouched, our sovereignty unimpaired, our freedom of action unfettered. We will play it as sovereign Americans, not as subject League of Nations men. The issue is—Under which flag? The Republican party marches to victory, in this campaign, under the banner of Americanism."

With the nomination of Samuel M. Shortridge of San Francisco as the Republican nominee for United States Senator, California voters have emphatically placed their stamp of endorsement upon the Republican presidential nominee as well.

Shortridge was one of the first of California's Republicans to raise his voice against the Wilson League of Nations. In a speech before the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, he pointed out the perils of the Wilson League even before the Republican senators had moved to block it. When Senator Hiram W. Johnson took his stand irrevocably against the league, Shortridge wired his congratulations.

The people of California know Samuel M. Shortridge is pledged to his conscience to vote for rejection of the Wilson League and to follow the Republican plan of erecting a new international council with The Hague tribunal as its foundation. His selection at the polls was at once a rebuke to the Wilson League and an expression of hope for a new order.

On the tariff, an important political issue of local consequence to California, Shortridge has expressed himself with similar foresight and directness. He has invariably been a champion of the protective tariff.

The Japanese question, which has recently come to the front as one of the gravest problems confronting California, finds the Republican senatorial nominee with a record no one can misunderstand or misinterpret. Shortridge declared during his primary campaign:

"I didn't wait until the final six months of a six-year term in the Senate to come out publicly against Japanese immigration. I have been speaking and writing against it for twenty-five years."

Shortridge's first public attempt to solve the problem now pressing to the front in this state was in the form of a scholarly article, published in the Sacramento Bee more than twenty-five years ago.

The record and convictions of Samuel M. Shortridge square with the platform of Senator Harding. President Harding will require a friendly Senate to do the most effective work after March 4, next, and although all signs point to a Republican victory that will leave no doubt of the supremacy in the upper house, California's next Senator may possibly hold the deciding vote in the next Senate.

DIVORCE SUIT DISMISSED

UTILITY INCREASES JUSTIFIED

Under the above heading the following article appeared in the San Francisco Daily Commercial News, issue of September 17th.

We respectfully call the attention of all consumers of telephone, electric, water, gas, street railway and other forms of public service to the comparative schedule here-in set forth:

"Unjust criticism has been directed at public service commissions in various parts of the country over increased rates allowed for telephone service, electric service, water gas, street railway, etc.

Justifying the increases granted to public utilities in Kansas by the Kansas Public Service Commission, the accountant of the Court of Industrial Relations has made a brief survey of the records and makes the following statement, which it is believed is comparatively correct. The increase in living necessities are as follows:

	Per Cent
Forty-seven food articles	97
Forty-seven articles of wearing apparel	119
Twelve kinds of dry goods	200
Twenty-eight classes of house rents	74
Eleven kinds of coal	70
Wages of common labor	150
Other wages, approximately	100
Materials used in telephones, construction and repairs	97
Other material	100
Wages of telephone employees	100
Telephone rates	40
Electric rates	50

The statement concluded with the assertion that these figures ought to convince the general public that there has been no profiteering in public utilities.

The figures apply with equal force to all Western States. Rates for public utility service have increased less in proportion than any other commodity of daily use unless it is insurance, which has remained stationary.

COUNTY BOARD IN REGULAR SESSION

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, September 20th, 1920, at 10 a. m., there being present Chairman John MacBain, presiding; T. L. Hickey, Mrs. Rosalie M. Brown and Dr. C. V. Thompson. Absent Supervisor Jos. M. Francis.

The board took up at this time the matter of the petition of the Mercantile Trust company, heretofore submitted, asking for the acceptance of certain streets and avenues in San Carlos.

F. H. Drake, who appeared in behalf of the petition, presented maps showing the streets in question, and asked that a map recorded in September of 1898 be accepted as the official map.

Fred W. Lippman and wife, through their attorney, Joseph J. Bullock, were present at the hearing and objected to the adoption of the resolution presented by Drake, calling for the acceptance of the streets on the grounds that it included Arroyo avenue, a portion of which has been occupied for years by buildings erected by the Lippmans and over which a suit has just been filed in the superior court by the Mercantile Trust company to compel Lippman to remove the said buildings.

District Attorney Swart, upon whose opinion the board several months ago refused to take any action in the matter, again stated that the records of the county did not show that Arroyo avenue has ever been accepted as a public thoroughfare, nor had been declared as such through public usage. It was up to the board, however, he said, to either now accept or reject the avenue in question.

Attorney Bullock addressed the board in behalf of his clients and argued that the question was one that would be decided by the courts and that the board should not be asked to take any action in the matter until after the courts had made its decision. He claimed that the portion of Arroyo avenue in dispute had never been accepted as a public street and quoted from a decision of the Supreme Court covering a similar situation.

Following further discussion, the matter was laid over, on motion of Mrs. Brown, seconded by Hickey, pending a decision of the courts in the matter.

The board officially canvassed the returns of the election on September 7th last to vote on the proposition of forming the proposed Washington Sanitary district southwest of Redwood City. There were no changes in the results as already announced and which were as follows:

For the proposition 40
Against the proposition 41

Inspector Thomas W. Horgan 53
Mrs. Woodie E. La Dieu 35
Trustees (five elected)
Matt Harris 60
Kenneth Murray 56
W. A. Maloney 55
L. Delucci 50
Jos. B. Felix 49

County Engineer George B. Kneese submitted a report in regard to the washout on the Pomponio creek on the coastside and as a result of which Mrs. Julia Fassler, who owned property alongside the road where the washout occurred, had sometime ago asked for damages. Kneese said the damage to Mrs. Fassler's property covered about one-third of an acre.

Following the filing of the report, Mrs. Nash, the clerk, was directed to write Mrs. Fassler and ask her what she considered her land to be worth.

Chairman MacBain informed the board that he had constructed 1500 feet of guard rail on the La Honda road and was intending to construct 2000 feet more. He asked that the board allow him the necessary lumber for the work, he to pay for the labor of installing out of his own road fund.

The request was granted, on motion of Thompson, seconded by Hickey.

On motion of Mrs. Brown, seconded by MacBain, the supervisor of the Second township was given permission to purchase the necessary material for a 24-foot culvert to be installed at Belmont.

Look at the roads for twenty miles around on a Sunday

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

Father W. P. Sullivan, the beloved pastor of the Church of the Nativity here for the past three years, will leave for New York on September 26. He will enter St. Bernard's University at Rochester for an advanced course in economics. He will be absent from the state for some years. His successor here has not yet been appointed. Thursday evening his friends and parishioners met in Native Sons' hall and gave the devoted priest a farewell reception. The ladies decorated the hall in an artistic manner. Long rows of tables were laden with refreshments, in the center of the hall around which the guests sat and while partaking of the good things before them listened to the program that was rendered. D. E. O'Keefe was toastmaster. A vocal solo was rendered by Miss Throver of Palo Alto, "Come Back to Erin," was rendered by Miss Mildred Bracco. Miss Schenkel also sang. Charles Smith in a well-phrased speech presented Father Sullivan with a valuable gold pen as a token of esteem from Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W. of which parlor Father Sullivan is a member. Judge Deasy, on behalf of the parishioners presented Father Sullivan with a handsome gift. The judge was eloquent in his brief remarks telling of vicissitudes of the priesthood and the many difficulties to be overcome. He told of the excellent work Father Sullivan had done in the parish. His speech was heartily applauded.

Father Lacombe delivered a very witty and entertaining address that was well-received. James O'Keefe delivered an address in which he lauded the work of Father Sullivan while in Menlo Park. John Morey made a hit in the rendition of a popular Irish song. Father Sullivan, in responding to the many nice things said about him and in accepting the gifts delivered a feeling address full of thought and sentiment. He thanked his parishioners for their kindness to him and asked that their good wishes follow him in his new field of endeavor. He was applauded to the echo as he resumed his seat. Father Sullivan will leave here next Monday for San Francisco for a few days rest before leaving for the east. Father Sullivan has endeared himself to the people of Menlo Park during his stay of three years by his splendid work and zeal in the cause of religion. He carries with him to his new field the best wishes of all the people of Menlo Park irrespective of religion.

Wednesday evening a trophy in the form of a cup won by the Menlo Park ball team was presented to Philip Blanchard at a reception given by the community center of Palo Alto.

Rev. Preston made the presentation speech. He complimented the winning team and hoped there would be a successful contest next season. Mr. Blanchard responded on behalf of the victors in an appropriate speech. Dancing followed the presentation. The cup is now on exhibition at Fred Nesslers. Pictures of the cup and the players may be had at the Little Green Door.

The Companions of the Forest will give their first social affair in the nature of a card party in Native Sons' hall next Tuesday evening. Good prizes will be awarded the winners of the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Alexander, who were married in San Francisco last Thursday by Rabbi Nieto, are making their residence on Santa Cruz avenue, Menlo Park, where they are now at home. Following the wedding, a honeymoon sojourn was made at coast resorts, including Monterey, Del Monte and Pacific Grove. The bride, prior to her marriage, was Miss Valeria E. Mixer.
